ALLIANCE REALTY LEFT OUT.

NEW BIG REAL ESTATE COMBINE DOESN'T WANT IT.

No Explanation Why Brief Notice That the Company May Withdraw Its Stock Committee Headed by W. T. Rosen Calls for It to Represent Shareholders.

Authoritative announcement was made vesterday that the Alliance Realty Company, the chief stockholders in which are Frederick Southack, Alwyn Ball, Jr., and George R. Read, will not be absorbed by the new United States Realty and Construction Company. All but about six hundred of the shares of the Alliance stock have been on deposit in the Central Trust Company for some time under an agreement between the Alliance company and the committee in charge of the formation of the newest big combine. A clause in the agreement gave the committee the right to reject the Alliance stock, but gave the stockholders no right to withdraw their stock once it was deposited, unless the committee decided it didn't want it.

There have been rumors for some time that the combination would reject the Alliance stock, but it has been impossible to confirm them. The first intimation any one had that the stock had been formally rejected, came vesterday in the shape of an advertisement in an evening paper signed by Walter T. Rosen of Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co., F. S. Smithers of F. S. Smithers & Co., and George L. Peabody of Lee, Higginson & Co., stating that they had been asked by the holders of a large amount of the capital stock of the Alliance Realty Company to represent their interests. The advertisement continued:

We are of the opinion that the interests of the stockholders require immediate and concerted action. We have consented to act as a committee in behalf of stockholders who will deposit their shares, or Central Trust Company receipts for the same, subtect to our order, with the Atlantic Trust Company, 49 Wall street, New York city, on or before 3 P. M., on Oct. 3, 1902. Negotiable certificates of deposit will be issued for the deposited stock or Central Trust Company receipts.

Soon after the appearance of this ad-

Soon after the appearance of this advertisement, the following statement was given out by Hallgarten & Co., head of the banking syndicate which is underwriting the new United States Realty and Construction Company:

The committee, consisting of James Stillman, Henry Morgenthau, H. S. Black, Albert Flake and Robert E. Dowling, having in charge the formation of the United States Realty and Construction Company, have concluded to avail themselves of their privilege to abandon the absorption of the Alliance Realty Company, and have so notified the stockholders, who can withdraw their deposited stock from the Central Trust Company of New York. This will reduce the amount of preferred stock to be issued to $27,500,000 and the common stock to be issued to $27,500,000 of the common stock to be issued to $13,500,000 of the common stock. Also the United States Realty and Construction Company $2,500,000 of the common stock. Also the $11,000,000 cash capital paid in on Sept. 25, 1902 by the syndicate, and the cash turned over by the George A. Fuller Company and the New York Realty Corporation.

Henry Morgenthau, president of the United States Realty and Construction Company, when seen later in the afternoon. said:
"The stock of the Alliance Realty Company was deposited with the Central Trust Company under a printed agreement be-tween the depositing stockholders and the committee. There were deposited 19,428 shares out of 20,000 shares of the Alliance Realty Company. There was no provision in the agreement by which the Alliance stockholders could terminate the agreement and withdraw their stock, but there was an agreement enabling the committee to reject the Alliance company. The agreement was to run to Nov. 1. The comittee has to-day elected to abandon this greement. That is the entire matter in of the 30,000 shares of the New York Realty Corporation, more than 28,000 have gone into the agreement; 98,000 of the 100,000 of the Fuller Construction Company common stock has gone in and 47,300 of the 50,000 preferred shares have gone in. We have decided to have as offices for the new company the entire eleventh floor of the building at 135 Broadway, which we will occupy from Oct. 5 or 6."

occupy from Oct. 5 or 6." o explanation as to why the Alliance company is not to be taken into the new combination was made. The Alliance people declined to make any statement. Mr. Rosen, head of the committee which edvertised yesterday, would only say:
"A majority of the Alliance stockholders have agreed to allow this committee to represent their interests."

Neither Mr. Read, Mr. Southack nor Mr. Ball could be seen. The capital stock of the Alliance Realty Company is $3,000,000. It is the chief owner of the Broad-Exchange Building. Of the $2,000,000 capital stock of this building, the Alliance company holds $1,100,000 and the George A. Fuller Company $900,000. The building has a rent roll of almost $600,000. The terms upon which the Alliance stock was to be admitted to the company was 125 for the preferred and 110 for the common stock.

Within a comparatively short time the Alliance has bought a large number of building sites, which it has sold to builders. making large building loans.

BOUGHT BY THE SWIFTS. Angle-American Provision Company Purchased for About $5,000,000.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29 .- Official announce ment was made to-day of the purchase of the plants of the Anglo-American Provision Company by the Swifts. It is not known just what price was paid for the property, but it is understood to have been about $5,000,000. A new company with L. F. Swift as president will be formed to hold the property of the big English concern, which the Fowlers founded so many years ago and which has been such a factor in the English beef trade.

Swift & Co.'s shares on the Chicago Stock Exchange readily responded to the news of the consummation of the project which is taken as a forerunner of the big packers' combination that, it is thought, made when the stringency in the New York money market is relieved. The Swift shares on a few sales advanced 10 points over the closing figure of Saturday.

RAILWAY SUIT IN COURT. Bird S. Coler and His Brother on Opposite

In the Chancery Court at Newark yesterday, Vice-Chancellor Emery heard the arguments in a suit brought by William N. Coler of that city and others upon a rule to show cause why the officers and directors of the Tacoma Railway and Power Company should not be restrained from selling its road property and franchise to the Seattle-Tacoma Interurban Railway Company for $700,000. Both are New Jersey corporations and the former is the older concern. William N. Coler's brother, Bird S. Coler of this city, is a director of the older company. Both were stockholders in the company, but appear arrayed against each other in this suit.

William N. Coler was represented yesterday by Chandler W. Riker, the County Prosecutor of Newark. Bird S. Coler and the other defendants were represented by R. V. Lindabury. The latter argued that the majority of the stockholders of the Tacoma company voted for the sale of the road at the figure named and denied that the minority stockholders would be injured by the sale Mr. Riker argued that the meeting of the stockholders of the Tacoma company held last spring at Jersey City was illegal because thirty days' notice had not been given. He held, also, that it was illegal to vote at one meeting of the stockholders or directors first to sell the company's assets and then to dissolve the concern. for the statute provided that a company must first be dissolved and the assets sold afterward.

"But the other side control three-fourths of the stock of the company." he said.
"They have the directors and I suppose hey can do it all over again. Decision was reserved.

SHIPPING DEAL NEAR AT HAND. Admiral Beresford of the English Navy a Caller at J. P. Morgan & Co.'s. Lord Charles Beresford, Admiral of the English Navy, called at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. yesterday and had a talk with Sir Clinton E. Dawkins of Mr. Morgan's London firm. Several prominent representatives of the proposed Atlantic shipping combine also called. Lord Charles was quoted as expressing these views regarding the shipping combination: "I don't know that it is going to hurt English shipping very greatly, but this combination is powerful enough to make Englishmen, and English statesmen, merchants and shipping men wake up. When I say wake up' I mean it in the most strenuous and best sens . It may be-I hope it won't and best sens. It may be—I hope it won't be—that in the not distant future you may surpass us and wrest from us our maritime supremacy. But England is becoming alert to this danger, I hope, and will do her best to hold what she has."

P. A. B. Widener, who was one of the callers, was asked whether the present condition of the stock market would delay the consummation of the shipping deal.

"Oh, no," he replied, "not at all. The stock market has nothing to do with it."

"Then you think that there will be an "Then you think that there will be an official statement made this week?"

SHEEHAN OUT OF TENDERLOIN.

"SMILING DICK" WALSH, ENEMY OF DEVERY, STEPS IN.

Inspectors Brooks and Harley Change Places-Partridge Denies That Craft Murder Affected Sheeban - Brooks May Have Asked for His Removal.

Police Captain Sheehan, who was sent to the Tenderloin by former Police Commissioner Murphy for the ostensible purpose of ridding the "White Light" district of gambling houses and dives which had been allowed to exist under Tammany, will leave that precinct to-morrow. Capt. "Smiling Dick" Walsh, enemy of Big Bill Devery, will take his place. Capt. Walsh says he considers the assignment a compliment and Capt. Sheehan, who has come in for some severe criticism because of the murder in the Empire Garden, which apparently had been immune from police interference, says he is glad to go.

Police Commissioner Partridge announced these changes yesterday, at the same time stating that Inspector Brooks and Inspector Harley would change places. In all two inspectors and four captains will change places to-morrow, as follows:

Inspector Nicholas Brooks, from the First district to the Fourth (including the upper West Side from Fourteenth street to Eighty-Sixth street).
Inspector John Harley, form the Fourth district to the First (including the lower East Side up to Fourteenth street).
Capt. Michael Sheehan, from the Tenderloin to the Old Slip.
Capt. Richard Walsh, from West Twentieth street to the Tenderloin.
Capt. John W. Cottrell, from Madison street to West Twentieth street.
Capt. Francis A. Creamer, from the Old Slip to Madison street.
Capt. Creamer is a brother-in-law of Capt. Creamer is a brother-in-law of Frank Farrell, who says he is not the poolroom king. Capt. Creamer is known as a Devery captain. Capt. Cottrell, who assumes command of the West Twentieth street station, vacated by Capt. Walsh, is a new captain, having been made by Commissioner Partridge a short time ago.

He is known as "no man's man."

The most important of the transfers, of course, was that of Capt. Sheehan. It has been said for some time that he wanted to get out of the Tenderloin. Commissioner Partridge was particularly anxious to have it understood that Capt. Sheehan had not been transferred because of the Craft murder. The Commissioner said that he had had the transfers under con-templation for at least a week, but if they had been made before Oct. I the payroll of the entire department would have been

"You can thus see," said the Commissioner,
"that the Craft murder did not have anything to do with the transfers. Capt.
Sheehan was shifted at his own request. Sheehan was shifted at his own request. He has asked me a number of times to take him out of the Tenderloin. He was personally worn out, that was all."

Capt. Sheehan was sent to the Tenderloin during the declining days of the Tammany administration. He was known as a Roosevelt captain and when Capt. Flood decided that he would rather be out of the Tenderloin he selected Capt. Sheehan as the man to take his place.

Capt. Sheehan's reign has not been a great success. A Sun reporter was ingreat success. A Sun reporter was in-formed yesterday by persons who said that they knew what they were talking about that Commissioner Partridge had no intention of transferring Capt. Sheehan until last Saturday. Inspector Brooks, until last Saturday. Inspector Brooks who had been slated to succeed Inspector Harley, demanded, so these persons said, that a captain of his own selection be put in control of the Tenderloin, which is the most important precinct in the Fourth in-

STILL ANOTHER BRIDGE PLAN.

MORE LOOPS AND NEW STAIRWAYS ITS MAIN FEATURES.

Made by the Mayor's Committee of Experts, Which Cold-Shoulders Mr. Poulson's Scheme—Cost of the New Idea $50,000

-Rush-Hour Bar on Trucks Advised. William Barclay Parsons, George B. Posand J. C. Brackenridge, the committee appointed by Mayor Low to consider Neils Poulson's plans for improving the Bridge trolley service by substituting switches for loops, reported adversely on the plan last night, chiefly on account of the large number of grade crossings and junction switches which would be needed.

In place of Mr. Poulson's scheme the committee submits one of its own. The committee says in its favor that it would give a maximum of relief to trolley passengers without reconstructing the 1 ridge ter-

The plan is to construct four more loops at a point about midway between the pres ent loops and the end of the station, and to move the galleries connecting the mezza-nine floor with the stairways leading to the Bridge platforms to the space directly beneath the Bridge platform, thus giving sufficient head room for trolley cars to pass beneath.

The new loops, the committee says, can be so placed as to give more intertrack space than is afforded by the present loops, and cars can then stand upon the loops until the succeeding cars arrive, so that passengers will always find a car ready to be enered.

The only work necessary to be done to carry out this plan, the committee says, will be to widen the roadways from the end of the present widening to the curve of he roadway at the east end of the station move the galleries as described and to lay the tracks. The committee believes that the work can be done in not less than sixty days from the time the order is given, and that the improvement can be completed

To increase immediately the carrying capacity of the Bridge, the committee favors prohibiting the use of the roadway for trucks between 5 and 7 P. M. But whatever is done, the committee "desires to ex press the hope that the opportunity will be utilized to develop the approach to the Bridge so that it will become an ornament to the city and not an eyesore, as at pres

Grand Jury. Abraham S. Rosenthal and Martin I Cohn, partners in the large silk importing house of A. S. Rosenthal & Co., at 43 and 45 Greene street, were held yesterday by United States Commissioner Shields for the Federal Grand Jury on the charges of having defrauded the Government of $5,750 by means of fraudulent entries of Japanese silks at the New York Custom House. The prisoners were arrested on June 8 on half a dozen complaints made by W. Wickham Smith, special assistant to the Attorney-General, after an investigation covering the imports of three years. Mr. Shields says probable cause has been made out. The prisoners were admitted to bail in the same amounts set when they were arraigned, OFFICERS OUT OF OLD TOMBS. Occupy Rooms in New City Prison-Prisoners to Change About Dec. 1.

The offices of Warden Van De Carr and the clerical staff of the Tombs Prison were moved late vesterday afternoon from the old Tombs to the new city prison. Beginning to-day, all business will be transacted in the new offices, with the entrance on Centre street, and the old Franklin street entrance to the Tombs will be closed

The prisoners will be transferred about Dec. 1, or at the latest by Jan. 1. The change in the offices is made now, as it will be necessary to tear down the Elm street wall of the old Tombs in order to shift the sewer in Elm street and make a roof for the subway which is being built in that street.

The new City Prison, which has been erected at a cost of about $950,000, is one of the finest prisons in the world.

When the prisoners have been transferred the old Tombs will be torn down and the land the building now occupies will be turned into a courtyard.

The build brick building, known at the Tombs as the "new prison," and the women's prison wal continue in use.

Liberal price-concessions on many elegant imported things hurried over for the new store, which we expected would be ready by this time.

SCARLET FEVER IN HAMILTON.

$2.50; our price, $1.94.

Fears That the College Will Have to Close Twelve Cases, and One Student Dies. UTICA, Sept. 29. - It is feared that Hamilton ollege at Clinton will have to be closed as the result of an epidemic of scarlet fever in the 'neitution. Burton Loomis, a freshman from Chittenango Falls, died in Emersonian Hail this morning at 11:30 o'clock. and his body was interred in the college emetery at 2 o'clock this afternoon. An officer of the college said to-day that there were in all twelve cases of fever among

It is supposed that the disease arose from recent case in the family of a boardinghouse keeper on the edge of the campu where student members of the Alpha Del Phi and the Signa Delta Phi fraternities ate their meals. In this house, it is said, a child had scarlet fever, and upon the re-turn of the students at the reopening of turn of the students at the reopening of college a short time ago they were for-bidden to go to this eating house until they should receive the president's permission. A week ago last Wednesday the students were allowed to go to the house, the statement having been made upon medical authority that the place had been disinfected and that the danger of contracting the fover hed peaced. Students contracting the fever had passed. Students thereupon went to the house and last week thereupon went to the house and last week the cases began to develop.

Among the students who are seriously ill with fever are Lloyd Stryker, son of President Stryker; Walter Brokaw, son of the Rev. R. F. Brokaw, and a son of G. H. Humphrey of Utica. The Uticans were taken to their homes on Sunday. The cases are not confined to one house or dis-trict, but are distributed among the various rict, but are distributed among the various fraternity boarding houses.

Their plight attracted attention before they landed and they were at once placed under arrest. They refused at once placed under arrest. They refused to give their names and say that they de serted because of poor food.

"Elling" Accounted For.

Chief of Police Murphy of Jersey City believes that William Hooper Young is having some fun with the police with his mysterious partner in crime, "Eiling." "By transposing the letters in the first syllable, said the Chief yesterday, "you have 'Lieing, and I guess that's what Young is doing."

MILK GOES UP. TOO.

Wholesalers Raise Prices to Retailers, Who Will Squeeze Consumers in Turn. Another advance in the price of milk the third since Aug. 1, was made yesterday at an adjourned meeting of the Consolidated Milk Exchange, the price being put up one-half a cent a quart. This meanthat milk which now costs the wholesaler $1.52 a can, plus freight, selling charges &c., will be sold to the retailer at about $1.80 a can. The retailer is expected in turn to put up the price to consumers. CAUGHT HIS OWN BURGLAR. The Intellectual Housebreaker in Trouble

Again at Hackensack. HACKENSACK, N. J., Sept. 29.-While leorge Hubschmidt was harnessing a horse to come to Hackensack this morning his wife went to a bureau drawer to get $260 in cash and a check for $40 which he was to deposit in the bank. The money was and gave chase in a passing vehicle. The man was captured after taking to the woodand running into a swellen brook. Mr Hubschmidt recovered the money brought the prisoner to Hackensack. brought the prisoner to Hackensack.

He proved to be August Gadeka, who in 1894 escaped from jail with Henry Dukers, another burglar. Dukers assaulted Sheriff Alfred Bogert and would have killed him but for the assistance rendered the officer by Emma Leffler, a servant in the family, who choked him until he let go the Sheriff and knocked her down. Both men were retaken in two days. Gadeka went to State prison for four years, Dukers for fifteen.

Gadeka has been known as the intellectual burglar because he robbed many school-houses.

CARY SMITH'S BONFIRE O. K.

Designer of the Emperor's Yacht Gets a Permit to Burn Leaves. The Bayonne, N. J., Board of Health. by a unanimous vote, has consented to permit A Cary Smith, who designed Emperor William's yacht Meteor, to burn the eaves which have fallen from trees about his house at 51 West Centre street. Mr Smith made the application, fearing that if he did not get the permit some of his neighbors might try to cause him trouble.

An Undertaker Court-Martialled.

"Conduct unbecoming an undertaker" is the latest offence for which a man may lose caste in Jersey. It is on this charge that william Necker, who buries the dead of Union Hill, has been expelled from the Hudson County Association of Undertakers. In forcing him to relinquish his membership the association is said to have had in view Necker's method of advertising, which he conducts in the form of plans and specifications.
